Let your home pay for itself

DON'T leave your house empty if you move abroad or to another part of the country. That is the advice from residential rental specialists Jeffrey Milner Property Management based in High Wycombe.

Not only can you be covering your mortgage costs and rates, but the property can be kept heated during your absence. Jeffrey Milner let and manage houses and apartments in an area approximately 25 miles around their High Wycombe offices.

Although letting a property seems very complicated if it has never been tried before, looking into this a little deeper proves that it is usually quite straightforward provided a residential letting agent handles the deal for you.

Jeffrey Milner has produced a set of letting notes for the landlord which deal with the business of letting and cover such items as mortgages, legal protection insurance, income tax, tenancy agreements and the services offered by the agents.

If you are thinking about leaving your home for a while, even if it is only for few months contact Jeffrey Milner Property Management on High Wycombe 41201/40431
